

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence
(ACES)
Fort Lee, Virginia

WELCOME
TO
The Reserve Component Breakout session

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence
(ACES)
Fort Lee, Virginia

ACES
Reserve Component Liaison Officers

CW3 JAMES T. CHRISTENSEN
james.t.christensen@us.army.mil

804-734-4282 (DSN) 687-4282

RICKEY A. FRAZIER
rickey.frazier@us.army.mil

804-734-4285 (DSN) 687-4285

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence
(ACES)
Fort Lee, Virginia

Role of Reserve Component Food Advisory Office

“The Eyes, Ears and Voice for the Reserve Component Food Service Program. Receive, interpret and translate information to and from the Army G4 and Quartermaster General, concerning the Reserve Component Food Service Program”

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Break Out Session Topics

1. 92 Golf Degradation
2. Food Service Program
  - a. What does it consist of ?
  - b. How Do We Promote, Stimulate & Package ?
3. Trends / Getting Out Front

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

92 Golf Degradation

1. Active Component
  - a. Back ground
  - B. Findings & Recommendations

2. Is this apparent in the Reserve's?
  - a. Do we need to do a survey as well?
  - b. What are your recommendations?

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES)

Fort Lee, Virginia

Findings

1. 73% Respondents Believe Additional Training is Required
2. 50% of 92Gs Require Training Upon Redeployment
3. Common for Soldiers to Deploy After AIT
4. Pre-prepared Products Diminish Skills
5. 92Gs Making E4/E5 w/ Little/No Experience
6. Training should be Approximately 14 days
7. Home Station Training is the Preferred Method

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Recommendations

1. Institutional Training
2. Contractor Provided Training
3. Mobile Training Team (MTT) Training
4. Unit Provide Training

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Preferred Recommendation

- * Unit Provide Training with Assistance from QMC&S Assets
  - a. Unit is Most In Touch w/ Personnel
  - b. Training is Unit Responsibility
  - c. Unit Knows Training Needs
  - d. Mentorship Opportunities

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Food Service Program

Food Service Program structure

- a. Assessment Schedule
- b. Action Plan
- c. Involvement in personnel management (placement/replacement)
- d. Professional Development
- e. Connelly Field Category
- f. Culinary Arts
- g. Incentive Program

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Food Service Program

PROMOTE:

- a. attempt to sell or popularize / to urge the adoption of / advocate
- b. Keeping food service on the commander's list of priorities
- c. Insist on the use of cooks during IDT, AT & Exercises
- d. Ensure cooks are Recognized, Awarded and Promoted by Commanders in formation
- e. Recommend only the best qualified NCOs for the Warrant Officer Candidate program

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Food Service Program

STIMULATE:

- a. Excite
- b. Energizing our 92Gs to a point of interest Both Warrants and Enlisted
- c. We do this by doing everything mentioned on the previous Slide and then some
- d. What excites most people time off, money, awards, promotions, or recognition for their efforts
- e. When and where possible sell your program

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Food Service Program

PACKAGE:

- a. Bundle
- b. Presenting a complete concept to your Dir, chief, supervisor
  1. Your goals/vision (1–3 years)
  2. Program's budget package
  3. Benefits of the program (Command)
- c. Making sure your program is in line with higher echelon
  1. Your program should mirror BDE. DIV & HQ RC/ARNG when possible
  2. Establish a selection criteria for programs (not by default)
- d. Once established fight to maintain

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Trends / Getting Out Front

1. Not waiting for Active Army to develop, field test, use, then force feed down to Reserve Component
2. Making our demands known through our Command channels (use all available resources)
3. Using workshops to target specific issues and continuing with those issues until they are resolved

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Frequently Addressed Issues

1. Feeding ARNG and USAR Soldiers in an Active component APF Din Fac under the one of the following conditions – IDT, AT or Training Exercise
2. Small Garrison Connelly Competition
  - a. Is this something the Reserve Component want to pursue?
  - b. When will we be ready to start?
  - c. Does both sides understand what's needed to get this program started?

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence (ACES) Fort Lee, Virginia

Up Coming Major Events

- 1. Adjunct Instructor class dates
11 – 16 January 2009 / 08 – 13 March 2009
Quality Inn
12711 Old Stage Road
Chester, VA 23836
(804) 796-5200
- 2. DA CULINARY ARTS COMPETITION
2 – 13 March 2008
Fort Lee, Virginia 23801
- 3. DA Connelly Awards Ceremony
2 – 5 April 2009
Atlanta Hilton
255 Courtland street
Atlanta, Georgia 30303
- 4. Reserve Component Food Service Workshop
Date: 7 – 11 Feb 2010
Location: TBD

Army Center of Excellence, Subsistence
(ACES)
Fort Lee, Virginia

QUESTIONS ?